Hail Result Of Daylight Saving Time

Voters Indicate Their Approval Of 'Fast Time'

Notes Delay In Official JuCo Tally

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Daylight savings time lovers in St. Louis hailed results Wednesday of elections in 11 other Missouri cities in which voters indicated approval of "fast time" for this summer.

"This is a strong indication of the growing awareness of the benefits of daylight savings time," said Aloys P. Kaufmann, president of the Chamber of Commerce of metropolitan St. Louis.

St. Louis has had DST in the summer for years and many of the area's recreational programs depend on it for an extra hour of light.

Recently, Congress passed a bill putting the whole nation on daylight savings time unless individual state legislatures vote to put their state on standard time.

Missouri congressmen failed in an attempt to modify the bill so that portions of a state—such as eastern Missouri—could go on DST while the rest of the state stayed on standard time.

The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce embarked on a program to sell DST to the rest of Missouri in hopes the legislature wouldn't kill the plan for St. Louis.

Kaufmann said the Chamber is planning a "vigorous educational program next fall" throughout the state.

Burn US Military Jeep, Stone Cyclist and Girl

SAIGON (AP)—About 1,000 demonstrators rioted in Saigon streets tonight, burned a U.S. military police jeep and stoned an American motorcyclist a few hours after Buddhist leaders leveled a fresh demand at Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government.

The Buddhists called for Ky's regime to pledge publicly to step aside in favor of a civilian government in five or six months.

A banner displayed during the outbreak in the streets, said: "end the war immediately."

Charging from behind two fire trucks spouting water from high-pressure hoses, Vietnamese airborne troops finally drove the demonstrators into the compound of Saigon's Buddhist Institute.

The demonstrators — in the streets for six nights now demanding the ouster of the military regime — burned the U.S. military police jeep and stoned an American who was riding on a motorcycle with a Vietnamese girl. They set the motorcycle afire.

There were conflicting accounts of what happened to the American and the girl. Persons on the scene said both fled into a house, which the demonstrators stoned.

Other accounts said the girl had run inside the house, while the man dashed down the street and flagged a car that carried him away.

A U.S. military policeman on the scene said the motorcyclist was an American civilian who worked for a contractor at Saigon's airport.

A tentative identification by the military gave his name as Larry Dewitt, but no hometown was available.

Saigon's mayor, Lt. Col. Van Van Cua, issued orders for the immediate induction into the military of all youths of draft age arrested in the rioting, municipal government sources reported.

As the violence spread, part of the mob turned its wrath on an American civilian and a Vietnamese girl trying to maneuver through on a motorcycle. They drove the couple off with a barrage of rocks and shattered glass windows and doors of a house where they had sought refuge.

Mystery In West Berlin Plane Crash

Soviet Military Crew Is Missing; Stories Change

BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of West Berliners flocked today to the site in the Havel River where a Soviet Military jet crashed. There was still a mystery as to what happened to the crew.

The Russians said the two-man crew perished when the plane crashed Wednesday afternoon. A British spokesman at the scene in the British sector reported divers had found no bodies.

People lined the rivers' banks and picked up along nearby wooded trails. The water around the crash scene was reserved for the barges that were working to bring up the plane.

More than a dozen uniformed Russian officers and enlisted men were at the site.

The official news agency Tass reported earlier that the pilot, Capt. Boris Kapustin, and his gave their lives to insure that navigator, Lt. Yuri Yanov, the plane went down in an uninhabited spot.

Later the East German news agency ADN said that Tass had requested that ADN withdraw its version of the Tass story. Later Tass advised ADN to release the story. No reason was given for the change in signals.

Lower Fee For Older Fishermen

The Public Works Board, at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night, revised some of its improvement plans and lowered the fishing fee for persons over 65 years old wishing to use the Springfield Lake facilities, it was announced Thursday.

Water main relocations necessitated by highway improvements caused the board to sidetrack general improvements scheduled for the pumping station south of Sedalia.

According to reports, Highway Department policy changes placed unexpected costs on the city and thereby necessitated the change in plans by the water department.

Persons over 65 years of age will now only have to pay a 50-cent fishing fee, a reduction from the $1 fee which is in effect for those between the ages of 12 and 65, the board said.

Reason for the change, the board said, was consideration of the fixed-income status of many persons over 65, making use of the Springfield facilities less expensive for them. Admission is free for persons under 12 accompanied by an adult.

Council Will Vote On Special Election At April 18 Meeting

The vacancy which will be created when Ralph Walker, newly elected mayor of Sedalia, takes office on April 18 will call for a special election to be held in the Fourth Ward to fill Walker's remaining one-year term as councilman from that ward.

Mayor L. L. Studer said Thursday morning the city council will vote on an ordinance April 18, setting the date for the special election. Until a new councilman from the Fourth Ward is named, however, the council will consist of seven members. Studer said.

Passes Pay Raise

Congress Begins Easter With a Pre-Holiday Rush

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress starts its Easter recess today after approving the food-for-India program and a two-month extension in signups for doctors' bills insurance under Medicare.

In a big pre-holiday push Wednesday, the House also passed a 2.9-per cent pay raise for 1.8 million federal workers and two major money bills totaling $8.3 billion to finance activities of the Treasury, Post Office and Interior Departments in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Senate was busy approving President Johnson's proposal to transfer the Community Relations Service, which mediates civil rights disputes, from the Commerce to the Justice Department.

After recessing today the House will be off until April 18. The Senate plans to come back April 13 for debate — but no immediate action — on Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment to modify the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Many congressmen will take advantage of the recess to return home to feel the public pulse on such matters as Viet Nam, government spending and inflation, and to get in a bit of campaigning for November's congressional elections.

But six senators and seven representatives plus staff members and wives plan to spend the holiday in Australia — with stops also in Honolulu, New Zealand and perhaps Tahiti.

They left Wednesday on an expense-paid junket as U.S. delegates to the spring meeting of the Interparliamentary Union in Canberra, Australia. The stops are being made because their Air Force jets lack sleeping facilities, they said.

Apparently buried in the flurry of legislative activity Wednesday was what House Speaker John W. McCormack termed a misunderstanding involving the House Democratic leadership and 22 Western Democratic House members — most of them firm administration backers.

They charged that the Democratic whip organization, which checks members' views and attempts to line up votes for administration bills, had leaked information to some lobbyists and White House aides — who then tried to exert pressure on some of them.

The chief Democratic House whip, Louisiana's Hale Boggs, called the whole thing "a tempest in a teapot" and said usually "we know how they are going to vote, whether there is a count or not."

J. W. Jones Receives Appointment Notice As Town's Postmaster

J. W. Jones, 47, Sweet Springs, received confirmation Wednesday of his appointment as postmaster of Sweet Springs in a telegram from the U. S. Senate. It was reported that President Johnson had recommended Jones several times but that Wednesday's confirmation was the first word that he had received of his appointment.

A native of Sweet Springs, Jones was born, reared and received his education in the town. He has been employed with the Berry Chevrolet Company there since his graduation from high school, 28 years ago, except for a period of nearly four years while serving in the armed forces in World War II.

Predict Call For Standard Auto Safety

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Warren G. Magnuson predicted today the Senate Commerce Committee which he heads will call for mandatory safety standards for cars.

Magnuson told newsmen this seemed to be the feeling of a majority of the members of the committee, which concluded hearings Wednesday on President Johnson's highway safety legislation.

The administration bill would authorize, but not require, the secretary of commerce to set motor vehicle safety standards after two years.

Magnuson said he thought the committee would amend the bill to direct that standards be issued and also to require the adoption of interim standards pending further research and testing.

Such temporary standards, Magnuson said, could be worked out after consultation with the industry. He said they could provide for collapsible steering wheels, dual brakes and "other things the industry apparently is going to do anyway."

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., who was presiding when the hearings ended, expressed hope that the auto industry would move forward at a rapid pace even though this would mean some financial sacrifice.

As the hearings neared their windup Wednesday, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., introduced a bill that would require automobile manufacturers to notify owners and the public in general of automobile defects which could cause traffic accidents.

Mondale said the safety standards under the administration's bill would not become effective for three or four years if the proposal is approved. But he said that if his measure is approved it would provide immediate protection.

John S. Bugas, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., urged Tuesday in testifying for the industry that it be given a chance to show what it could do before any federal standards are imposed. He assured the committee that the auto makers had gotten "the safety message."

As part of a voluntary industry program, Bugas appealed for legislation granting immunity from antitrust prosecution to the manufacturers for sharing information and developments in the safety field.

Change of Identity

Stranger Than Fiction Story Out of Viet Nam

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—A stranger than fiction story emerged today about a man who was killed in Viet Nam while serving in the Marine Corps under the name of an acquaintance.

The dead Marine has been identified as William F. Joyce, 25, of Stoughton, Mass., who was killed in action at Quan Lai while serving with the 1st Battalion of the 7th Marines.

But Joyce apparently was known to his comrades in Company C, not as Joyce, but as "Richard J. Preskenis," the name under which he enlisted three years ago.

There is a Richard J. Preskenis, who went to high school in Stoughton, but who now lives in an adjoining town, Canton.

Preskenis, 22, knew Joyce several years ago, but the men were not close.

Preskenis' name turned up on a casualty list issued Wednesday by the Defense Department. The list gave an address in Livermore Falls, Maine.

When the official notifications went out a few days ago, nobody in Livermore Falls knew any Preskenis. So the notice was forwarded to Brockton, where the dead Marine had listed as his secondary next of kin a sister, Mrs. Paul Collins.

The Marine Corps in Washington says it was she who told them that the true name of the dead Marine was Joyce.

Joyce apparently used the name of Preskenis to enlist in the Marine Corps in April, 1963, because he had had some trouble with the police, which might have made him unacceptable.

Preskenis was not available for comment, but his wife said, "for a long time we had been wondering why Richard wasn't drafted. His twin brother, Robert, had gone into the Air Force in 1961 and got out just last August."

Mrs. Preskenis explained that her husband had gone to his draft board and asked why he hadn't been called and that "the lady there told him he had enlisted April 1963 and so, of course, wasn't drafted."

Preskenis submitted his birth certificate and other family records to the draft board to convince the members he was the "real" Richard Preskenis.

On Feb. 11, 1966, the records show, the 22-year-old Preskenis was reclassified to 3-A, married with dependents.

The records at the draft board also show that Joyce was listed as 4F in August 1961 "because of court record."

There is nothing in the draft board records to indicate whether Marine Corps authorities had been notified of the apparent fraudulent enlistment by Joyce. The Preskenis couple was married Nov. 20, 1965. Mrs. Preskenis, also 22, says she expects to become a mother in September.

Preskenis is in the sophomore class of Bentley School, a business college in Boston, and works nights. Mrs. Preskenis said she and her husband learned of the bizarre mixup on their wedding day "when there was a newspaper story that Richard J. Preskenis was accused of attempted rape."

"We hustled down to Brockton police station and they told us the man accused had given Richard's name," she said. "They said the man also gave lots of family information about the Preskenises but he made a mistake on Richard's mother's maiden name."

She said the charge against Joyce was reduced to assault and he was put on probation.

"Richard lost his draft card about 3½ years ago," Mrs. Preskenis said, "and he got a new one about the first of April three years ago."

How did Joyce know so much about Preskenis?

"Oh, Richard's brother, John, went to school with Billy and they were pretty close for seven years," Mrs. Preskenis said.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: In regard to that boxer dog that snored so loud he kept the neighbors awake, please tell the owners about a surgical correction that can eliminate the dog's snoring. The operation is performed under anesthesia and is painless.

Also, Ann, your readers might be interested to know that it is no longer necessary to put up with a barking dog all hours of the day and night. A surgical procedure can "debark" a dog very easily. The animal does not know that he has been debarked and he continues to bark, but the sound is muted and it disturbs no one.—NS., D.V.M.

Dear NS.: I checked with my own "D.V.M." in Chicago, (his initials are P.O.L.) and he tells me that the de-snoring operation is peachy, but he would not fool around with the debarking procedure for anything in the world.

He insists that a dog DOES know something has been done to his vocal chords and the frustration is very hard on his nerves. So back to the earplugs, Buster.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been running away from this problem for years and it has been making me miserable. Maybe you can help.

I am 29 now, have a lovely family and a good life. But I can't get up before a group and give my name and address without shaking for half an hour after. I know it's silly but I can't help it.

In high school and college I faked laryngitis, toothaches, anything to get out of talking before the class. The times when I could not get out of it I'd get so nervous I'd almost pass out. I'm not shy with friends and I can entertain large groups in my home with no feelings of insecurity whatever. Please tell me what to do. — REDDING ROSE.

Dear Red Rose: If there is a Toastmaster's Club in your town, join it. I also recommend a public speaking course if one is available.

The FEAR of going to pieces finishes you before you start. The best way to conquer the fear is to meet the situation head on and say to yourself, "I will not let this defeat me." Then do the thing you are afraid of. If you simply can't make yourself do it, see a psychiatrist and work with him to remove the psychological block.

Dear Ann Landers: A boy in the senior class (age 17) worries me. Hal is very good-looking, smart, and well-liked, but he lives in a world of cameras.

Hal has never had a date in his whole life. His deplorable state can best be described by this incident. I said to him last week, "How come you never go out on dates?" He replied, "I can't afford dates. I just spent $300 on a camera."

I am not bragging, Ann, but I'm a popular girl and there isn't a boy in our class (except this nut) who wouldn't be proud to take me out. What can I do about him?—NEW HAVEN.

Dear New: It's funny that a girl can get a date with any fellow in the class, but the one SHE'S interested in is the nut who doesn't know she's alive. Leave him alone and he may get the picture.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Emotions Come Under More Study

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Are you good at repressing your emotions?

Dr. Joseph Reyher finds out by learning whether you give yourself a headache or rash in psychological experiments.

Reyher says his research findings back up psychologists' views that some headaches and other ailments come from pushing an uncomfortable emotion out of the conscious mind.

Dr. Reyher, a Michigan State University associate professor, hypnotized persons and told them about a fictitious event in which they had been wronged and felt very angry. After they awakened, he reminded them of the supposed event.

Subjects who were good at repressing their anger, Dr. Reyher said, complained of headache, nausea, tiredness and other ailments. Some broke out in skin rashes.

"The subjects repressed their emotions," he explained, "because they were completely out of place and out of character under the conditions."

While good repressors tend to have physical ailments, he said, poor repressors tend toward emotional symptoms such as annoyance or irritation.

Dr. Reyher said some physicians estimate that up to 60 per cent or more of their cases are psychosomatic — involving the mind.

Dr. Reyher said his theory relating the type of ailment to the degree of repression modifies but does not necessarily contradict two widely held theories.

No Settlement In Viet Nam

UN Failure Does Not Hurt Prestige, Goldberg Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — As U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg sees it, neither U.S. nor U.N. prestige has been diminished by United Nations failure thus far to play an active role in promoting a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam.

Largely due to opposition by Soviet Union and France, the U.N. Security Council has not even debated formally a U.S. request that the council call for a peace conference based on the 1954 Geneva agreements.

With some fanfare, the United States brought the issue before the council early in February. That came after a vigorous diplomatic campaign aimed at convincing governments of the U.S. desire for peace, and at the end of a 37-day lull in bombing of North Viet Nam.

Diplomatic efforts to achieve peace seem at a virtual standstill now. Secretary-General U. Thant, active behind the scenes a long time, apparently has had no luck in his efforts.

Pope Paul VI, also a peace seeker, believes there is nothing that can be done at the present. He made his views known to Masayuki Yokoyama, Japan's roving peace ambassador.

What the United States would like to see eventually in Viet nam is a settlement policed by the international community — preferably the United Nations.

Against that background Goldberg said in answering questions from a reporter this week: "As far as the United States is concerned, it has gained in terms of world opinion by demonstrating its willingness to submit the whole matter to U. N. jurisdiction."

"As for the United Nations, I believe the world is getting more sophisticated than we generally recognize. It is realized that the United Nations cannot act when two great powers who are members are unwilling to act. The fault is not that the United Nations, but of the members who have taken a stand against U.N. action."

France said it was interested in a peaceful solution in Viet Nam but contended that a council debate would not bring a solution closer. The Soviet Union declared the matter should not be settled by the United Nations but under the 1954 Geneva accords.

Goldberg said the United States had two main reasons for bringing the issue to the council: To stimulate U.N. members in trying to promote a negotiated settlement, and to make plain to the world that the United States wanted to move the issue from the battlefield to the conference table.

He does not see the United States in isolation on the Viet Nam issue in United Nations.

"If anyone is in isolation it's Communist China, which says that the issue can only be settled by war even if it lasts 25 years," he said.

Among the concrete results of the council debate he listed the efforts of Canada to keep lines open to Hanoi through the control commission, made up of Canada, Poland and India. It was created under the 1951 Geneva agreements.

Goldberg also noted activity among nonaligned countries seeking a peaceful settlement but said there has been no response from Hanoi as far as he knows.

New Officers Are Elected For Sorosis

Mrs. Kenneth U. Love, 702 South Barrett, was elected president of Sorosis Monday afternoon at the annual spring luncheon at the Heard Memorial Club House, closing the Sorosis season.

'Miss Teen'
Pageant Is Good Spoof

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, which talks a lot about satire but never does much about it, came up Wednesday night with a spoof on that fine broadcasting staple, the beauty contest.

The program, one of the funniest of the season, was ABC's "Miss Teen International Pageant." The only trouble was that it was not intended to be that funny, just a slavish imitation of the five or six other "pageants" which occupy the television screens from early spring to late summer.

CBS and NBC have just about cornered the beauty pageant market between them and ABC obviously felt a little out of things. So it put together what looked suspiciously like a home-made one.

Thirty girls, some from foreign parts but others from places as distant from Los Angeles as Pacific Palisades and Santa Barbara, were summoned to Hollywood. And by the time we tuned in to the beginning of the show on the stage of "The Hollywood Palace" there were 11 semi-finalists left including just one local girl, Miss Teen USA.

The youngsters, between the ages of 15 and 18, were all cute looking and conducted themselves with dignity and tremendous poise, considering the circumstances. They were surrounded, engulfed and almost drowned by assorted performers from ABC television series.

Adam West, sans scalloped cape and face mask, but in scholarly glasses and tuxedo, was host and spent considerable time peering uncertainly at off-camera cue cards and stumbling over "Batman" jokes.

In addition there were about two dozen other ABC-TV performers around, including "Lurch," the giant butler from "The Addams Family." The huge crowd around the few girls suggested soon that they were really digging beauty pageants.

The high point started when Robert Goulet leaped athletically to stage center to do a sight gag with "Batman." It turned into a shambles when Goulet couldn't locate a pocket comb which was to be the vital prop of the joke. Then "Batman" fumbled the line that was to set up the laugh.

And finally, Arlene, Dahl swept on stage to congratulate the winner, a very pretty Swedish girl, and accidentally knocked the beauty queen's rhinestone tiara right off her head.

The new "Miss Teen International" didn't cry for joy, which is almost mandatory for winners. She just looked stunned—and you can't blame her.

Newly Elected
President Wants
Time To Think

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The newly elected president of the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City asked for a few days to consider whether he will take the job.

He is the Rev. Eugene L. Stowe of Fresno, Calif. If he accepts, he would succeed Dr. L. T. Corlett, who will retire at the close of the academic year. Dr. Corlett has served as president since 1952.

The seminary trustees also voted Wednesday to give the executive committee of five members and the president authority to make a final decision before May 1 on a site for a new Nazarene Bible College. The board narrowed the site selection to two cities — Colorado Springs, Colo., and Fort Worth, Tex.

Stowe, 43, a native of Council Bluffs, Iowa, has been superintendent of the Central California district of the Nazarene Church since 1963. He has been a pastor for 20 years and spent 10 years at College Church in Nampa, Idaho.

From 1956 to 1960, he served as president of the International Nazarene Youth Society.

Thank You

May I express my sincere thanks to those who worked for my election and those who voted for me in the General election. Thank You.

Dr. J. J. Rodewald

I am grateful to the voters of Sedalia for selecting me as City Treasurer. I shall try to merit your trust and support, and I sincerely thank you.

Try Again Tonight
To Launch Rocket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, frustrated by nine postponements in 10 days, tries again tonight to launch an Atlas-Centaur rocket on the first test firing of a first double ignition, hydrogen engine in space.

The firing was scheduled for 8 p. m. EST. The shot was postponed twice Wednesday — early in the morning and in late afternoon — because of dangerous winds 25,000-40,000 feet above Cape Kennedy. Two earlier postponements were associated with a power plug that failed to disconnect from the rocket after the countdown reached two seconds on March 29.

NASA tentatively reset the postponed Orbiting Astronomical Observatory shot for 2:36 p. m. Friday. It has been postponed five times due to weather and technical problems.

For Industry

Breakthrough In South
Could Set New Patterns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sitting in his 12th floor, modernistic office, the man with a strong jaw faintly reminiscent of a more famous profile gazes out over the panorama of Washington.

Then he turns and muses aloud to a visiting newsmen. "This has been a red letter week," he says.

The man is Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 51, chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

And why is it a red letter week for him? Because, he says, a big breakthrough has been scored which could set a pattern for industry in the South, as well as elsewhere.

He referred to an agreement, announced Monday, whereby the nation's largest shipbuilder,

Five-Year Contract
Averts KC Shutdown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Construction workers represented by the Teamsters Union approved a five-year contract Wednesday night averting a building industry shutdown in the Kansas City area.

Members of Local 541 voted 380 to 53 to accept an offer made by the Builders Association. The new contract provides increases of $1.02 an hour spread over the next five years and affecting approximately 2,000 men.

It was the last major settlement in current construction talks, and full operations will resume today. Concrete plants were closed earlier in the week by a Teamsters strike.

A newsman mentioned that James A. Farley, grand old man of Democratic strategy, is reported to have said the party is so disorganized in New York that it has little chance to beat Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Roosevelt said: "If I run, it will mean I am sure I can unify the party and win."

Prices Go
Bit Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Traditional Easter dinners may cost a bit more this year than last, but food shoppers will find generally lower prices this week-end than they have in months.

Stores are offering specials on ham, turkey and leg of lamb. Ham prices are down as much as 5 cents a pound on the West Coast. Turkey is down 2 cents and lamb 3 cents.

There are plenty of eggs for the Easter bunny, with prices down 2 to 4 cents a dozen at a New York City area supermarket chain.

Butter is down as much as 1½ cents a pound, but that may not last. Wholesale prices on fresh butter rose this week. Butter production the week ended April 1 was down 27 per cent from a year ago.

The food industry is scrapping last year's "food is a bargain" campaign for one emphasizing family well-being.

Even President Johnson took notice of food prices this past week. He asked housewives to keep an eye on items on which prices were rising, and then try to eliminate them from their shopping lists.

The federal government reported a further decline in farm prices — and eventually consumers' food bills — appears probable this month, with ample supplies of pork, eggs, poultry and vegetables.

The first Florida peas and Texas celery of the season are moving to the market, along with increasing strawberry shipments from Louisiana and Texas.

Pole bean, carrot, celery, endive, escarole and cantaloupe prices are lower in some areas. Higher are cucumbers, onions, peppers, tomatoes, cauliflowers, bananas and grapes.

Temperatures in the 90s in the California delta have hurried along the asparagus crop, which is crowding into the market.

Tuna fishing is improving. The California cannery packed 59 per cent more cases the week ended March 26 than a year ago.

Possible Candidates
Attend Party

Seven prospective candidates attended the party for the Miss Sedalia pageant held at the Farm and Home building Sunday sponsored by the Jaycees and Jaycee Wives, with four of the girls signing as contestants.

Miss Diana Gray, who was the 1965 Miss Sedalia, was present and told the girls about her experiences at the Miss Missouri Pageant in which she was a candidate last year as Miss Sedalia.

A second Pepsi party will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Farm and Home building at which Miss Ellen Woolery, Miss Sedalia of 1964 and Miss Gray will be present.

The contest is open to girls between the ages of 18 and 27, in the Sedalia area. Girls of that age may attend the party and there is no obligation to enter the contest.

Wrong Tax Levy

The Green Ridge general election story, published in Wednesday's Democrat, erroneously stated a school tax levy of $2.81 had been approved by voters there. The correct figure is $2.66.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. — The Zimmerman twins cause more than a little confusion at school here. The problem is that the two sets of identical twins have the same last names but aren't related. Kim and Michele Zimmerman are first graders while Jeff (left) and Jerry Zimmerman are in the fourth grade. The girl's teacher said they like to use their likeness for practical jokes. The girls switched chairs on the photographer as he was writing down identifications and now he isn't sure which is which. (UPI)

Loman Will Unload His Sample Case

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Willy Loman, classic symbol of the futile search for success, will be unloading his sample cases on television next.

Willy is the leading figure of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman." In presenting the play May 8, CBS performs the novelty of featuring the actor who created the role: Lee J. Cobb.

That was something Hollywood never thought of. Fredric March played Willy in the movie version.

Cobb assured that "Salesman" was made with few compromises.

The versatility of Lee J. Cobb is demonstrated by the fact that he can swing with ease from Willy Loman to a stock television Western to a campy spy farce. During the past four years he has been the dramatic mainstay of "The Virginian." But his life on the range appears to be ending.

"I'm almost phased out of the series," said the actor. "I have four more 'Virginians' to do, and then I'm out of it."

Election Post-Mortems . . .

Judging from numerous contacts made with a cross-section of men and women voters downtown Wednesday, results of the election the previous day seem quite acceptable. No growling, no bitterness, some jocularity about how the Republicans kicked the Democrats in the . . . !

However, the Democrats aren't too sore about this, having elected seven of their candidates for city hall to three of the opposition. Of course the major post, that of Mayor, went to Ralph Walker to whom the political prognosticators gave the inside track as far back as the primary election.

The new city administration is expected to demonstrate performance. The talent is there to accomplish this if political party bickering and ward jealousies can be de-emphasized at city hall. The City of Sedalia is entitled to a consolidated effort aimed at over-all efficiency in the operation of departments of city government.

This is the kind of philosophy Republicans have championed in their campaign declarations. Now that they have three stalwarts who are recognized as competent spokesmen in their individual right, Sedalia's may expect to hear some constructive oratory from time to time as matters of state are considered in open council meetings.

However, there is plenty of time in which to make the rafters tremble so that a modest rather than boisterous approach may be advisable at the outset.

Proponents of the Junior College proposal suffered from intermittent chill, fever and sweating as returns came in from Warsaw, Lincoln and Cole Camp the night of the election. Benton county districts just about knocked the slats out from under the college. Sedalia and Pettis restored them.

While the unofficial count indicated the plan acceptable by a majority of 378 votes, not counting 200 absentees, the margin is slim enough to arouse concern among the unconvinced about the possibility of an unexpected miscalculation when the official tabulations are made.

Such a denouement would be catastrophic to those who eagerly await establishment of a Junior College in Sedalia within the next year. Let not the mind dwell on a defeat probability now that apparent affirmation has been given the JuCo proposal.

Bands of Silence

Writing in Nation's Business, Alden H. Sypher, retired editor and life-long journalist, noted that "Government by fear is causing bands of silence to fall across the land."

"Noise, still rises from bearded builders of dissension but in increasing numbers the more responsible, mature and highly qualified people are withdrawing from public discussion. . ."

He goes on to say the inclination toward silence is "restricting the exchange of ideas that could result in honest consensus. It is the product of fear—the fear of a vastly increased central authority with tremendous power and little restraint in its use."

"The fear of farmers whose livelihood is largely controlled in Washington and whose product prices have been affected by stockpile manipulations."

GOP Confident of Gaining House Seat

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—The 50-seat U.S. House gain that some Republican leaders are forecasting for this November is not really the highest GOP hope. Some hardminded party men privately put the prospect closer to 60.

Admittedly, they say, this assumes not merely a "normal bounce-back" but a real anti-administration trend stirred by discontent over Viet Nam, inflation and related issues.

On the other hand, some top Democrats known for their realism simply do not believe this trend is in motion. They think Republican recovery in the House will be held within a 30- to 35-seat range, which they insist is normal.

When President Johnson made his own recent cheerful comment on the House election outlook, he was armed with this Democratic appraisal made by men who have checked key areas first-hand in the last month or two. The scattering of favorable polls he cited were just frosting on the cake.

Those polls, taken by individual congressional Democrats in 18 districts, incidentally showed the President's own stock quite high—stronger in the East than in 1964.

But experienced Republican technicians simply do not accept this measurement of the November outlook.

Among presently Democratic seats they mark down as prime targets of opportunity come 18 in the Northeast, 22 in the Midwest, 12 in the West and a bit more than a handful in South and border areas.

In about two-thirds of these, GOP leaders

BUFFALO EVENING NEWS: Mechanic Shortage.—It is a deplorable fact of life that mechanized America suffers from a shortage of mechanics to fix the machinery when it suffers an ailment after leaving the factory. The automobile factories in Detroit are crying aloud for trained men. They say 30,000 trained mechanics are working for automobile dealers and that in the next few years 100,000 more will be needed. Manufacturers have been attempting to build cars that need less servicing and have even been encouraging do-it-yourself repairs. But special tools and techniques are needed in many repairs that used to be taken care of in the garage on free afternoons.

The Detroit plant takes note that skilled mechanics can earn from $8,000 to $10,000 a year and that a college education is not necessary.

Still they can't get recruits. Maybe it's because a mechanic has to get his hands dirty. Could that be it?

patterns, but by unbearable pressure of central power and authority.

"Of educators who have seen sudden withdrawal of federal funds for failure to conform—and just as sudden replacement of the funds through intervention not by educators, but by political figures."

"Of city leaders who see in the antipoverty war new political alignments that may be directed or at least greatly influenced by Washington."

"Of little people who rest uneasily under the benevolence of power they have seen unleashed, over which they have no control."

And, says the Oregon Voter, "beyond the self-imposed silence and fear of economic repercussions, there lies the historically proven danger of becoming a subservient, obedient and abject people. Thus, the more we fear and the longer we stay silent, the greater are our chances of becoming weak, self-committed captives."

are satisfied that good Republican candidates have been or will be named. They are still hopeful that the remaining spots also can be filled with bright prospects.

At this point, however, caution has to be laid on. In one western state where a sizable seat pickup is projected, there are as yet—by private GOP testimony—no first-class entries. Good men are said to be on the scene but unresponsive to appeals that they run in 1966.

Furthermore, while a great many freshman House Democrats have lately been complaining that the Johnson administration and the Democratic party are neglecting their election needs, the fact is that some seem sufficiently entrenched to be assured of re-election unless a massive GOP sweep occurs. Republicans concede they have virtually no chance in a few of these cases.

This means that just to recover their net 1964 loss of 38 seats, the Republicans will need extra momentum. To get back 50 or 60 could be quite a chore.

To win back 50 seats would put the GOP over the 190-seat mark in the House. The party has not been that high since it held around the 200 level in the 1956 election. It suffered a 48-seat loss in 1958, gained 21 in 1960, another 4 in 1962, then took its second big drop of 38 in 1964.

The GOP experts think that it is perfectly sensible to expect major recovery in the six states—Iowa, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Washington—where more than half their total 1964 losses occurred.

The World Today

Many Changes In Quarter-Century

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Things get twisted in a quarter of a century.

Just a little over 20 years ago, after the war, Russia under Stalin was a menace to the world, practically hissing at the West. Now it's talking sweet reasonableness and accusing the United States of aggression in Viet Nam.

In the 13 years since his death, Stalin, hero of the Communist world for decades, has been so established in the Russian people's mind by his successor, Premier Khrushchev, as a maniacal nut, that Khrushchev's successors have begun to think it necessary to make Stalin look halfway decent at least.

After World War II China, limp and split by civil war, was aided by billions of American dollars. Now a Communist stronghold, it hates the United States and has become so arrogant and aggressive that it is accusing its big Communist neighbor, Russia, of being reactionary.

Worse still, China, a helpless giant for centuries, has become a menace both to Russia and its Asian neighbors.

The United States, struggling after the war to get its economy going in the midst of gigantic strikes and tottering price controls, now has an overheated economy, so much so that the Johnson administration is considering a tax boost to combat inflation.

The United States alone after the war had the atomic bomb. But gradually Russia, Britain, France and even Red China got into the nuclear act with an embarrassing effect on long-range bomber planes.

Now the bomber is becoming obsolete to a great extent as nuclear missiles replace it for the long range dirty work.

Germany, which was the worst fascist state in history, has undergone an almost fantastic transformation. East Germany is Communist and West Germany, highly democratic, is dripping with prosperity although it was in ruins at war's end.

French President Charles de Gaulle, who never could have returned to France and power if it had not been for the Western Allies, is now withdrawing from the Atlantic alliance, a tactic which is supposed to be gesture of French pride and independence.

It's a highly questionable tactic, since De Gaulle knows that whether or not he's in the alliance the allies will protect him if by any chance, and that looks remote, France should be attacked.

Meanwhile in the same quarter of a century the great colonial powers have had to disgorge almost all their colonies, letting them have freedom and independence, which looks like a pair of mixed blessings in some of the new nations. South Viet Nam is a good example.

The Vietnamese were under the heel of France until 1954 when the French, defeated by the Communists, had to pull out, leaving it to the United States to help the South Vietnamese who were not Communist.

But there now in the midst of war against the Communists the South Vietnamese are struggling among themselves for power.

They do this while Americans fight the war. They hoist placards denouncing Americans. And they apparently give little or no thought to a very basic question: If they can't have an orderly government in the midst of war, how can they hope to have one if and when the war is settled?

The present troubles in Viet Nam may be butted over at this time but the prospect of eventual chaos and collapse looks like a good bet, thus making all the American efforts useless.

Can She Hold Paying Job?

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Millett

A word to the girl who is still in high school:

Just because your main ambition in life is to marry and have a family is no reason for you to think for a minute that you don't need the best training you can get (before you get a husband) for earning a pay check.

Mary Ann Keyserling, who directs the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor, wishes all you girls who are still in school would give some serious thought to these three facts that will confront you once you are out of school and married:

ONE. Almost 60 per cent of all married women will hold paying jobs during their lives. (Why should you take it for granted that you will be among the 40 per cent which will never want or have to work after marriage?)

TWO. By the time your young child is in school you may have 40 or more years of life before you. (Isn't it possible that you might wish you were qualified to hold an interesting job during at least some of those years?)

THREE. Increasingly greater economic demands on the family require two-pay check households. (Even though your husband may be able to earn a living for you and your children, you may want a better living than one pay check can provide.)

So it is pretty unrealistic for a girl today to think that because she intends to marry she doesn't have to worry her little head over whether or not she is qualified to work for a pay check.

Chances are—husband or no husband—she'll spend some years as a wage earner. And how she spends those years—whether she has a job that is challenging, stimulating and well-paying or whether she has to take what she can get with no special training—depends largely on what she does with her life when she finishes high school. Whether she calls it quits so far as education is concerned or goes on to better prepare herself for a paying job.

Teens Turn Up Volume For Studies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If your teen-ager turns up the volume while studying—don't fret.

"It may be a sign of intelligence," says an educator.

Dr. John E. Hoffman, who has a daughter 19, and feels like an authority on teen-age study habits, recently tested 281 11th-grade pupils while recorded music blared at them with a force of 85 decibels for 30 minutes.

By comparison, the average office noise is 60 decibels, a busy street 70 decibels, a pneumatic drill 90 decibels.

"The sound was not deafening," says Hoffman, "but it was as loud as a symphony orchestra during a crescendo."

Despite the noise, students of higher than average intelligence scored as well or better on examinations than they did when tested in a quiet room, Hoffman said.

"Superior readers tended to perform more effectively under loud noise than poor readers," said the educator. "Students of average and below average intelligence seemed to be bothered more by the sound."

Hoffman made the experiments in earning a Ph.D. in education at the University of Southern California. He elaborated on his findings in an interview.

"Teen-agers like the radio, record-player or television turned on loud at any time because they want to feel the sound. They want to participate—to actually feel the beat," Hoffman said.

"They do it when they study because this puts them in a good mood, and thus they are more receptive. Also, forcing themselves to learn under this form of stress increases their concentration, and the superior students seem to learn more rapidly."

But it only works for teen-agers, he cautioned.

"It doesn't work for pre-high school students nor for those in college," he said.

Asparagus Used By Ancient Romans

Asparagus was well known as an appetizer at ancient Roman dinners. As early as 200 B. C. Cato gave detailed gardening instructions that would be considered good today, except that he recommended the use of seed from wild plants.

It is possible that asparagus was one of the first frozen vegetables. Cato, the Roman historian, wrote of the Feast of Epicurus. He says, "asparagus, grown along the River Tiber, was picked in season and rushed by chariot and fast runner to the snows of the Alps for preservation. Then at the Feast of Epicurus, six months later, the asparagus was rushed back to Rome after being well preserved in the mountain snow."

Thomas Jefferson introduced asparagus to the United States. One of his hobbies was importing seeds of asparagus, which he grew in his green house, while he was a resident of the White House.

How To Grow Asparagus

Some asparagus beds today are started from seeds, but most are started from crowns obtained from a nursery. These crowns are a root system, that look somewhat like a wet mop. Asparagus is a heavy feeder and the root system goes quite deep, therefore it is necessary to have the upper 12 to 15 inches of soil well fertilized.

It takes about 2 years for an asparagus bed to produce a crop, but it will produce a profitable crop for 10 years or more, with little care.

There are male and female asparagus plants. The male will produce better than the female but the female will develop shoots quicker, therefore harvesting can begin earlier.

The commercial growers often sow barley on each side of the asparagus bed to catch the sandy soil when the wind and cultivation stirs up the soil. This helps to reduce the sand from getting under the scale and into the tip.

Asparagus grows rapidly, especially if the weather is warm. It may grow 8 to 10 inches a day. It is necessary to cut it often. This cutting is usually done by hand. There are mechanical aids used in harvesting asparagus which hold the pickers and move them along the rows for picking but no successful mechanical harvesting equipment is available at present.

Most shippers put the harvested asparagus through a series of cold water baths to remove the soil and field heat before packing.

The sweet flavor of the asparagus spear is maintained by keeping it below 41 degrees F. and the butt kept damp all the way from the shipper's refrigerator to the point when it is to be prepared. When asparagus warms up to room temperature, the flavor deteriorates rapidly.

Fresh asparagus appears on the market from about mid-February through July. The greatest quantity is marketed in April, May and June. Usually the peak is from May 15 to June 15. It may be earlier than that this year, because of the earlier than usual warm weather.

How To Use Asparagus

Good quality asparagus should be fresh, tender, and firm with close compact tips. A tender stalk is better. The tips should be a bright green or purplish green in color. The whole stalk, with the exception of an inch or two at the base should be brittle. A small amount of white at the base helps to preserve moisture in the green part.

Fresh asparagus should be used as soon as possible. If it must be stored, place it in the coldest part of the refrigerator (not freezing compartment), wrapped at base with a damp paper towel.

Before cooking, wash and break or cut off the woody ends. Cook until tender crisp. This will take about 8 to 10 minutes.

Ways Asparagus May Be Served:

Serve it plain to buttered asparagus. Add lemon juice to buttered asparagus. Serve with horseradish sauce, cheese, Hollandaise sauce, or white sauce.

Use raw or cooked asparagus in salads. Arrange cooked stalks of asparagus on toast, sprinkle with melted butter and grated cheese. Place under broiler until cheese is melted.

Combine asparagus in casserole dishes with ham, chicken, turkey or cheese.

Add asparagus tips to scrambled eggs. Combine equal parts of sour cream and mayonnaise. Add seasoned pepper. Place on top of cooked asparagus.

Season asparagus with sour cream and caraway seed, celery seed or sesame seed.

Horseradish Sauce: 1 cup of commercial sour cream, 2 tablespoons horseradish, drained, 2 tsp salt. Dash of seasoned salt. (Method): Mix all the ingredients and chill until ready to use. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Cheese Hollandaise Sauce: 2-3 oz. packages cream cheese, 2 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, dash salt, dash white pepper, paprika. (Method): Beat cream cheese until fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating after each addition. Add lemon juice, salt and pepper. Heat over hot water. Serve over hot cooked asparagus spears; garnish with paprika. Any leftover sauce can be stored in the refrigerator. Heat before using. Makes 1-1/2 cups.

Canning Asparagus

Raw Pack: Wash asparagus; trim off scales and tough ends and wash again. Cut into 1-inch pieces.

In glass jars: Pack asparagus as tightly as possible without crushing to 1/2 inch of top. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints; 1 teaspoon to quarts. Cover with boiling water, leaving 1/2 inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids. Process in pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure (240 degrees F.). — Pint jars, 25 minutes; quart jars 30 minutes.

As soon as you remove jars from canner, complete seals if necessary.

Hot Pack: Wash asparagus; trim off scales and tough ends and wash again. Cut in 1-inch pieces; cover with boiling water. Boil 2 or 3 minutes.

In glass jars: Pack hot asparagus loosely to 1/2 inch of top.

Yanks Not Tops Today

American League Picks Aren't Easy Any Longer

NEW YORK (AP) — Picking the American League used to be a breeze. Put the Yankees on top, Washington at the bottom and then fill in the spaces. It doesn't work out that way any more.

It probably is safe to eliminate Kansas City, Boston and Washington before a bat is swung in anger. After that sixth place finish, 25 games back, New York almost goes into the same category. Almost, but not quite.

There are those who believe the Yankees still may awaken and regain their lost glory. However, they are in the minority. Mickey Mantle is only a pinch hitter. Tony Kubek is retired and Jim Bouton still is looking for that fast ball.

This shapes up like a typical National League-type race with five of six teams having a chance at it. Minnesota has the bombers and Baltimore has added Frank Robinson's power. Eddie Stanky has the Chicago White Sox hustling and Cleveland is thinking big.

Granted that every club has a weakness that could prove fatal, Detroit looks like the best bet to this observer with a good balance of young and experienced pitching and pretty fair sock. Chuck Dressen will cook the chili and pull the strings. All he needs is a solid bullpen man and a little bit of luck in avoiding injuries.

At this time of year on a clear day you can see forever. It may look different in October. The following predicted order is guarantee to put the kiss of death on the Tigers:

1. Detroit
2. Baltimore
3. Minnesota
4. Chicago
5. New York
6. Cleveland
7. California
8. Washington
9. Boston
10. Kansas City

Dressen can match any staff with Denny McLain, Joe Sparrman, Mickey Lolich from the kiddie corps and Bill Monbouquette and Hank Aguirre from the oldsters. With Dave Wickham for relief or spot starts, it looks like the best staff in the league.

A healthy Al Kaline and the slugging of Willie Horton and Norm Cash give Detroit solid run potential. The infield is solid, but not brilliant, and the addition of Dick Tracek to back up the regulars should help. The Tigers are very thin in catching behind Bill Freehan.

Baltimore has the big boom with Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, Curt Blefary and Brooks Robinson but the absence of Dick Brown, who underwent brain surgery, leaves a gap in the catching department. It remains to be seen if Hank Bauer can find enough pitching to make up for the loss of Milt Pappas to Cincinnati. Dave McNally and Steve Barber on the starting line and Dick Hall and Stu Miller in the bullpen are the solid staff members.

There is a disposition to believe that the Twins won't do it again but this may be a horrible mistake. With Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Don Mincher, Jimmie Hall and Zoilo Versalles the defending champs have plenty of muscle. A second base gap and a leaky defense are the drawbacks. A healthy Camilo Pascual and a repeat of 1965 by Mudcat Grant could carry the Twins right into another World Series.

Stanky has been doing with mirrors so far this spring, just like Al Lopez did for years with the White Sox. The pitching is only as solid as the bullpen part of Eddie Fisher and Hoyt Wilhelm, who has been handicapped by a broken finger. The Sox hung in there last year, finishing second with Juan Pizarro winning only six games. If Eddie can do better he should be the manager of the year.

The Yanks' problems are many, starting with Mantle who has been limited to pinch hitting duties as he recuperates from shoulder surgery. Roger Maris appears to be back in the groove and Elston Howard is healthy.

Whitey Ford and Mel Stottlemyre are the solid pitchers. Two rookies, Roy White and Bobby Murcer, can hit but it remains to be seen if they can do the job in the field.

Cleveland packs good power in Rocky Colavito, Leon Wagner, Max Alvis and Fred Whitfield. Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Luis Tiant provide a pitching nucleus.

The Angels hope to make a splash in their new Anaheim, Calif., home but the first division probably is beyond reach. Washington's pitchers have

Simmons Knows Team

Tigers Strong But Might Not Make It

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Big Eight teams couldn't stop Hi Simmons and his Missouri club in the rebuilding year of 1965, what are their chances of preventing a fifth straight Missouri championship this spring?

The answer is that Missouri is strong and must be favored, but the Tigers still might not make it. Simmons knows his pitching depth is good, but the staff can't match the excellence of his 1964 NCAA runner-up club. Missouri hitting power will make the difference if it approaches 1965, when the club hit .316 and its .536 slugging percentage led the nation.

Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas State and Oklahoma State all played like title contenders at times in the pre league southern trips. All four open the league race at home Friday, with Kansas at Nebraska, Iowa State at Missouri, Colorado at Oklahoma State and Oklahoma at K-State.

Single games will be played Friday, doubleheaders Saturday in each series except the one at Missouri, where this will be reversed.

K-State is vastly improved in its second year under 33-year-old Bob Brasher, the league's youngest coach. He predicts the

Hawks Show Laker Fan Good Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Player-coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks was all smiles as he handed a telegram to everyone who came near him in the dressing room Wednesday night.

"You did okay against a bunch of cripples," it read, "but how are you doing against a healthy team." It was signed by "A Laker Fan."

"I guess we showed him," said Guerin, who had an ice pack on his bad leg.

Guerin and his Hawks had just outshot the healthy Los Angeles Lakers for a 120-113 victory, their first in three games of the final playoff of the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Their 64 per cent shooting from the field gave them a 62-56 halftime lead. They finished with a 52.2 per cent, continuing the hot hand that gave them three straight victories over the injured Baltimore Bullets in the semi-final round.

Across from Guerin, who scored 24 points, was Bill Bridges, whose weight reducing program has added much-needed heft to the St. Louis offense.

Bridges sank 12 of 17 shots and picked off 17 rebounds.

"I've been concentrating on getting down from the 240 I've weighed ever since I came into the league five years ago," said the husky forward, who now weighs 224. "I think it's helped a lot on my jump shot."

The teams tangled in the fourth game of the best of seven set Saturday night in St. Louis.

Dietzel Considered Three Job Offers

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Paul Dietzel said he considered three other coaching offers this spring before deciding to leave Army to become head football coach and athletic director at the University of South Carolina.

Dietzel, given a 10-year contract Wednesday at a reported $25,000 to $35,000 a year, succeeded Marvin Bass, who resigned to become head coach and general manager of the new Montreal team in the Continental League.

The Cadets were 21-18-1 in four years under Dietzel, with a win and a tie in four games with arch rival Navy.

been getting bombed in the South and Gil Hodges may be pressed to hold eighth place. Boston still hits homers, but the youth program still is light years away. Kansas City has brought in Alvin Dark to handle a club that is short of everything but hope although their hitters can shake up a few pitchers.

Wildcats will be a prime threat if their pitching holds up.

Nebraska, runner-up last year, OSU, third, and Iowa State, fourth-place finisher in '65, all have good front-line pitching and a solid group of veterans. Kansas and Colorado are depending too much on sophomores. Oklahoma has a veteran team, but it finished last year ago.

Seven of the league's top 11 hitters and seven of the top nine pitchers are back this spring. Three of the hitters are at Missouri—league champ Bob Robben at 443, Gene Stephenson .360 and Ron Cummins .317. Orv Hollrah, with a 2.97 earned run average, is the only top MU pitcher.

Other top hitters back are K-State's Stu Steele at .400, OSU's Tony Sellari .389 and Iowa State's Dick Olsen .317, plus three others who were over .300—Colorado's Steve Best at .308, Iowa State's Jerry Retzlaff .302 and Oklahoma's Jay Cronley .300.

Iowa State has two of the top returning pitchers — Tim Van Galder with a 1.53 ERA, the runner-up, and Bob Ziegler 2.88. Nebraska also has two, with Gary Niebauer 1.98 and Bob Hergenrader 2.34. The others are OSU's Dick Frank 1.89 and Fred Chana of Kansas 3.15, but Chana is hampered with a bad elbow.

Four All-Big Eight players are back — Steele, Robben, Sellari and Van Galder. Five top men signed pro with eligibility remaining.

In non-conference play in the southwest, Colorado finished 5-1, Nebraska 4-1, K-State 7-4, Kansas 5-2 and Oklahoma State 3-2 as Big Eight teams enjoyed their best spring against outside teams since 1959, Iowa State was 1-3 and Oklahoma 2-5 against tough foes.

Missouri defeated Fort Sam Houston in the last game of its trip Wednesday 17-6. Barry Lubeck and Bob Carpenter hit home runs in the slugfest. It gave Missouri a 4-3 record in non-conference play.

CMS Tennis Team Wins First Test

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (Special)—Central Missouri State's tennis squad won its first test of the season, 6-3, against Northwest Missouri State at Maryville this week and prepared for a trip later in the week to Graceland College at LaMont, Ia.

Northwest had won three matches in a row before running into the Mules.

The results:

Bruce Nelson (CMS) def. Jim Schilling, 6-0, 6-1.

Bill Cook (CMS) def. Dick Schilling, 5-7, 6-3, 7-5.

Jim Ellison (CMS) def. Bob Schilling, 6-3, 6-3.

Bruce Horrell (NWMS) def. Jim LaRue, 6-4, 6-3.

Chuck Baldwin (CMS) def. G. Varchola, 2-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Tom Grow (CMS) def. J. Crozier, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

D. Schilling - B. Schilling (NWMS) def. Ellison-Nelson, 10-8, 3-6, 6-4.

Cook - Baldwin (CMS) def. J. Schilling-Horrell, 6-0, 6-1.

Crozier - Varchola (NWMS) def. Grow-LaRue, 6-0, 6-1.

Bill Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Cook, 725 West Third Street. In defeating Dick Schilling, Cook defeated the leading tennis player of Northwest State.

Says Time For Big Three To Step Down

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ken Venturi says it's time somebody ends the Big Three's domination of the Masters Golf Tournament, and the dapper Californian would like nothing better than to bump Jack Nicklaus.

Red Takes Stand For His Rookie

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst may be thinking that all a rookie needs is a little encouragement.

Schoendienst took a stand Wednesday in favor of his slump ridden rookie first baseman, George Kerner. Wednesday night, Kerner came through with two singles and a double and drove in three runs to boost the Cardinals to a 5-1 grapefruit League victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Schoendienst had told newsmen that the lanky 26-year-old from Holdenville, Okla., would start at first base next Tuesday night in the National League opener despite his slump.

Kerner, who led the International League in RBI last year, has hit only .222 in spring training games.

General Manager Bob Howsam backed up Schoendienst and added, "If we give up now, there's no point in undertaking a youth program. Kerner just has to get squared away."

The Cardinals traded veteran first baseman Bill White to the Phillies last winter with the idea that Kerner could make the grade as a replacement. Kerner looked good in seven starts for the Cardinals last fall, but his spring work has left a lot to be desired. Schoendienst said he would place him seventh in the batting order.

Howsam was asked if Kerner could be sized up as a 275 hitter. "He'll have to if he's going to help us," Howsam said.

Perhaps some pressure was relaxed when the Redbirds sent their other major first base candidate, Bobby Tolan, to Tulsa Tuesday for more seasoning. Howsam noted he could be recalled if necessary.

Then Kerner was benched Tuesday night in Clearwater against the Phils and veteran utility man Tito Francona played first. Francona has enjoyed a good spring.

Arnold Palmer and Gary Player out of the winner's circle.

"If somebody else wins, that might shake up the Big Three a little," said Venturi, one of the early starters today among 103 golfers in the opening round of the classic on the Augusta National Course.

Venturi, making his 10th Masters bid, is one of a handful of outsiders given a chance to whip the trio that has won the past six championships.

"My hands are feeling pretty good now, as long as it is hot," said the 34-year-old two-time runner-up whose career was nearly ended before an operation helped his hands, stiffened by a circulatory ailment.

"The drier the course gets, the better my chances are," added Venturi. "A lot more people will be in the running if the course gets hard, because they will be able to keep up better with Nicklaus' driving."

Strong winds have dried the course during the past few days after it was softened by a Sunday rain.

"Nicklaus and Palmer definitely have to be reckoned with on this course, though, because there is no premium for accuracy and no substitute for length," he said.

Venturi twice just missed winning the Masters. In 1956 he almost became the first amateur to win the title, but after leading for three days shot himself out of the championship with an 80. In 1960 he lost by one stroke to Palmer, who also won the title in 1958, 1962 and 1964.

Those setbacks were forgotten by Venturi fans two years ago when he won the U.S. Open with a courageous showing on a hot, humid day in Washington.

"That's the kind of weather I'd like now," Venturi said.

Venturi was ranked with Doug Sanders, Bruce Devlin, Gay Brewer Jr., Tony Lema and Billy Casper as the most dangerous challengers to the Big Three.

Nicklaus and Palmer played a head-to-head practice nine Wednesday in their final tuneup, and finished even with one-under-par 35, Palmer said.

Both are working with new clubs. Nicklaus said he still doesn't feel comfortable with the driver he got after shattering in South Africa the driver he used since turning pro in 1962.

Player, who said he has been playing reasonably well in the practice rounds, has recovered from a bout with the gout that sidelined him last fall.

Answer To Dodger Duo

Maloney, Ellis May Lead Reds To Pennant In 1966

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis, Cincinnati's answer to Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, may not make fans forget the Dodgers duo, but they could lead the pitching-rich Reds to the National League pennant.

Although Koufax and Drysdale have returned to the Dodgers staff following a collective 32-day holdout, the addition of trade-acquired Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun to the Reds' pitching staff figures to lift them to the top spot for the first time since 1961.

But Maloney and Ellis will have to do for the Reds what Koufax and Drysdale did for the world champion Dodgers last year — provide that EXTRA that teams need to come out in front in the perennial five or six-team battle for the NL flag.

The Cincinnati duo won 42 games between them last year, joining Koufax and Drysdale as the only 20-victory pairs in the majors. Maloney outdid Koufax in one department by pitching two no-hitters, and Ellis put together his 22 victories in his first season as a starter.

Here then is the predicted order of finish:

1. Cincinnati
2. Atlanta
3. San Francisco
4. Los Angeles
5. Philadelphia
6. Pittsburgh
7. Chicago
8. Houston
9. St. Louis
10. New York

The Cubs can't win the pennant, even with Leo Durocher as manager. The Astros still are building, the Cardinals are rebuilding and the Mets still are trying to lay the foundation. That leaves six possibilities, and any one of them could wind up on top after game No. 162. However, the edge seems to be

Canadiens, Black Hawks Are Favored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The regular season champion Montreal Canadiens and the second-place Chicago Black Hawks are favored to win the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinals opening tonight. But Chicago Coach Billy Reay, for one, isn't taking the opposition too lightly.

Chicago won 11, tied two and lost one against the Detroit Red Wings, their semifinal opponents, in season play. Reay, though, looked at it this way on the eve of their first Cup match in Chicago Stadium:

"The Wings will be tough. There's all this talk of us winning in five, but you can't count on that. I'm ready for a seven game series. It won't surprise me if they come out flying."

Coaches of the Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs said they were certain their teams would turn in superior performances in the series starting in the Montreal Forum.

"I'm very confident about our chances against the Maple Leafs," said Toe Blake, Montreal's bench boss. "We closed the season with a rush and that will help our chances."

"We have a better bench than last year," said Toronto pilot Punch Imlach. "This makes us a better club than a year ago and I don't think the Canadiens have improved that much."

The Leafs had the edge in the season series between the clubs, beating Montreal seven times, losing five, with two ties.

The Canadiens, defending Cup titleholders, eliminated the Leafs in a six-game semifinal, then beat the Hawks in seven for the title last year.

The second games of the semifinals will also be played on Montreal and Chicago ice, the Montreal-Toronto tilt on Saturday night and the Hawks-Red Wings meeting Sunday afternoon.

with the Reds because of their strong pitching.

For starters there are Maloney, Ellis, Pappas, veterans Joey Jay, Joe Nuxhall and John Tsitouris and Jim O'Toole, who had a disastrous 1965, with a 3-10 record but at 29 should be able to make a substantial comeback.

Baldschun, who appeared in 65 games for Philadelphia last year, adds strength to the bullpen that was weak last season. He will join fireballing Billy McCool, giving the Reds a solid righty-letty combine.

To get Pappas, the Reds gave up hard-hitting Frank Robinson, but there shouldn't be too much of a drop-off in run production with such bats in the line-up as Deron Johnson, Gordy Coleman, Vada Pinson, Pete Rose, young, improving Tommy Harper and rookie infielder Tommy Helms.

Atlanta has all the ingredients with heavy hitting in Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Ed Matthews plus solid pitching in 24-

Rumors Cloud AFL Meeting On Its First Day

HOUSTON (AP)—The American Football League met today under a cloud of unconfirmed rumors that had Oakland Coach Al Davis succeeding Joe Foss as commissioner and veteran Houston quarterback George Blanda becoming the head coach of a new Chicago team.

The reports came in rapid-fire succession Wednesday night after it was revealed that the league's nine owners and Foss were assembled here for a scheduled — but unannounced — executive committee meeting at which expansion was one of the items on the agenda.

AFL officials, meanwhile, would not comment on the reports which said:

— Foss, the league's only commissioner since its inception in 1960, would announce his resignation, possibly to resume his political career.

— If Foss were to leave his job, he would be succeeded by Davis, the 36-year-old head coach and general manager of the Raiders who has made the Oakland club one of the most respected teams in the league.

— Chicago will become the league's 10th franchise and begin operations in the 1967 season, taking the AFL into territory now held by the rival National Football League.

— Blanda, who played with the Chicago Bears of the NFL, before joining the Oilers, would be named the head coach of the AFL's Chicago entry.

Terrell Says Group Formed To Promote His Two-Fold Career

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association's heavyweight champion, announced Wednesday formation of a corporation to promote his boxing and entertainment careers.

The 6-foot-6 fighter, who sings and plays the guitar, heads a musical group called The Heavyweights.

Terrell said he has fight offers from six contenders — Doug Jones, Zora Folley, Brian London, Henry Cooper, Amos Lincoln and Karl Mildenberger. He said he will announce acceptance of one offer in a few days.

The new corporation, known as Ernie Terrell Enterprises, Inc., has Terrell as president. Other officers include Sam Solomon, his trainer, as vice president; Laoma Byrd, operator of a training camp in nearby Pleasantville, secretary-treasurer, and George Hamid Jr., owner of Atlantic City's famed Steel Pier, executive director.

game winner Tony Cloninger, Ken Johnson and Wade Blasingame. The Braves also may be helped psychologically by having left Milwaukee.

The Giants have the incomparable Willie Mays and one of the best pitchers in the business, Juan Marichal. That's enough to make them pennant material. In addition, Lindy McDaniel will be valuable in the bullpen.

With Koufax, Drysdale and Maury Wills, the Dodgers have to be a contender. But the big question is how much the two hurlers will be affected by the 32 days they were away from camp.

If they can catch up quickly, the Dodgers will be right up there. If they fall behind at the start, the defending champs may have trouble catching up.

The Phillies again have shuffled their cards, acquiring Bill White and Dick Groat to go with a hard-hitting combine of Rich Allen and Johnny Callison. Jim Bunning, Chris Short and Ray Culp form a top crew of starters.

The Pirates also have heavy shellers in Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and batting champion Roberto Clemente. Vern Law, Bob Veale, and Don Cardwell, along with reliever Al McBean, form a solid pitching corps.

Still, Cincinnati would seem to have the edge in pitching quality. It was good enough for the Dodgers last year, and it should be good enough for the Reds this year.

Baseball Battle Near Showdown

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee-Atlanta tug of war over the Braves is nearing an opening day showdown. The State of Wisconsin made a dramatic shift in position Wednesday as the trial of its antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League closed with an oratorical clang. Special counsel Willard S. Stafford asked Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves back to Milwaukee this season only if the league failed to agree by Tuesday to give Milwaukee an expansion team for 1967. Tuesday is when the Braves are scheduled to open their National League season in Atlanta. Baseball attorneys went after 13 years in Milwaukee. It was the first time the state publicly dropped its unconditional demand for baseball in 1966, a demand baseball officials have said could not possibly be met. Baseball has not ruled out expansion to include Milwaukee in 1967. Roller, who was told by baseball attorneys that he could not succeed in ordering the Braves back to Milwaukee, reserved decision in the case until this weekend. The white-haired Milwaukee County circuit court judge promised a ruling by Saturday or Sunday. Baseball attorneys went

Robinson's Age Favors Baltimore

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fortunately for the Baltimore Orioles, Frank Robinson is not four years younger. If he were, the 30-year-old Robinson probably would still be with the Cincinnati Reds, and the Orioles would not have his potent bat to help them in their quest for the American League pennant.

Robinson socked his eighth homer of the spring Wednesday, a two-run blast that gave the Orioles a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

The veteran outfielder rapped three hits, raising his exhibition average to .388. The homer, following Curt Blefary's double in the sixth inning, increased his runs batted in total to 17.

All of this has come in Robinson's first spring away from the Reds, for whom he toiled for 10 seasons. He was traded last Dec. 9 for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Robinson's homer supported the combined two-hit pitching of Jim Palmer, Eddie Watt and Stu Miller. Palmer held the Yankees hitless for five innings, but pitcher Al Downing doubled against Watt in the sixth.

Ray Sadecki and Dennis Aust collaborated on a four-hitter as St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-1. George Kernek drove in three Cardinal runs and lashed two singles and a double.

Cincinnati edged Minnesota 3-2 on Tommy Harper's run-scoring infield single in the ninth inning. Deron Johnson singled, raced to second as Pete Cimino uncorked a wild pitch, moved to third on a ground out and dashed across as Harper beat out the hit down the third base line.

A seven-run explosion in the sixth inning carried Boston past the New York Mets 8-7. Tony Conigliaro doubled across one run in the inning and walked with the bases loaded for the eventual winning run. Dick Stuart hit a three-run homer for the Mets in the eighth.

Cleveland nipped Los Angeles 6-5 on Bill Davis' bases-loaded, run-scoring single in the ninth. Duke Sims and Larry Brown homered earlier for the Indians.

Eddie Mathews homered in the first inning and sparked Atlanta to a 3-1 victory over Houston while Ty Cline's run-scoring single and Wes Covington's sacrifice fly gave the Chicago Cubs a 3-1 victory over California.

Kansas City defeated Washington 5-1 with a 14-hit attack, including three hits each by Bert Campaneris, Jose Tartabull and Ken Suarez.

Rookie Ollie Brown slugged a grand-slam homer in San Francisco's 13-4 decision over its Phoenix farm team.

MVP Honors Handed Out to Chamberlain

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia 76ers' super star, has been named the National Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player for the third time by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association. Chamberlain, who led the 76ers to the Eastern Division title while setting an all-time career scoring record, was the first choice selection on 20 of 24 ballots.

Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers received three first place votes and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals the other in the balloting announced Wednesday.

Chamberlain also won the honor in 1960 and 1964.

76-ers May Lose Title This Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers won't win the big prize in the National Basketball Association after all.

Their pride stung when the 76ers ended their nine-year domination in the Eastern Division, the aroused Boston Celtics trounced the 76ers for the second straight time Wednesday night 114-93.

It was Boston's fourth straight victory in the NBA playoffs since they rallied from a 2-1 deficit to eliminate Cincinnati in the Eastern Division best-of-five semifinal. The Celtics now lead the 76ers 2-0 in the best-of-seven Eastern Division final, which resumes tonight in Philadelphia, and seem headed for their eighth straight NBA title.

St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 120-113 in the Western Division finals and now trail the Lakers 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, which resumes Saturday night in St. Louis.

When Philadelphia thwarted Boston's hopes for a 10th straight Eastern Division crown, Chamberlain, the league's Most Valuable Player, said, "This is just a down payment on the big one," referring to the league championship that goes to the winner of the playoffs.

A sellout crowd of 13,909 at Boston Garden saw big Bill Russell pace the Celts as they led all the way in routing the 76ers.

Russell had 29 rebounds, nine assists and 10 points in addition to many steals and blocked shots. Chamberlain ended with 25 rebounds and 23 points.

Bill Bridges, with 27 points, sparked St. Louis over the Lakers before a hometown turnout of 8,318. The Lakers, winners in the first two games of the series at Los Angeles, took an early lead.

The Hawks caught up and went ahead for good at 88-87 on Bridges' basket late in the third period. Zelmo Beaty followed with four points on a basket and two free throws and Bridges got another two-pointer to widen the gap.

Bridges sank 12 of 17 shots from the field and grabbed 17 rebounds. Jerry West led the Lakers with 32 points.

Shop Early for The Long
Week-End Ahead!
All A&P Stores
Will Be Closed
Easter Sunday

Did You Ever Think of Getting Your Easter Bonnet From A&P?

We don't sell Easter bonnets but... we suspect many an Easter hat has been paid for with money saved by shopping A&P.

Are we implying that A&P has the lowest prices on all items all the time?

No!

There is no store that can make that claim.

What we are saying is:

If you're interested in your total food bill,
if you're looking for the best values for your food dollar, A&P is the store for you.

It's a little late for this year's Easter bonnet, but start shopping A&P this week, anyway.

It won't be long before somebody in the house will need a new pair of shoes.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.
